

Everybody Hurts

The song "Everybody hurts" is about the difficult period of adolescence that we have all gone through but it also should link us to the most vulnerable part of our soul.

Adolescence is a complex life period in which WHEN teenagers taste ways of life that could be difficult or dark in a spiral of acute change of self-perception.

Loneliness, sadness, inadequacy are feelings that everybody has experienced although THEY are socially inexpressible; this taboo is perceived as an ~~insurmountable~~ A WALL YOU CANNOT OVERCOME ~~from~~ BY teenagers that, without adequate listening, can bring in cornered-by-society feelings. ~~That~~ The song can help those who suffer, those who feel unloved because it creates a connection of feelings even if few talk about THAT PECULIAR MOOD. Suffering is a universal feeling, nobody can run away from it. Thank you Rem for a wonderful song that is ~~much~~ more useful than a psychological session.
