

How to Find a Job Online

Print this article

The Internet is rewriting the rules to the job-search game. Make sure you know all the possible ways to find a job online.

Things You'll Need

- Internet Access
- Postage Stamps
- Envelopes
- Computers résumé paper résumé

Instructions

1. Browse the Web sites of any companies that interest you. Most companies will post job openings on their sites.
2. Go to a Web site specifically geared toward finding jobs. You can search for jobs on these sites by career field, location and even potential salary.
3. Search on your school's career-center Web site, if you're a student. These Web sites have job listings, guidance for writing résumés and advice on interviewing.
4. Visit an online newspaper and search the classifieds section for help-wanted ads and job opportunities. Many national as well as local newspapers have Web sites.
5. Check out search engines, as these also feature classified sections. Browse according to your location and interests.

Top Executive Job Sites

Exclusive Job Sites.

Executive Jobs from €60k. Join now!

Tips & Warnings

- Search frequently - new job listings are posted every day.
  - Many sites offer services that will allow you to e-mail your résumé directly to a potential employer.
  - Some sites made specifically for finding jobs may require a membership fee. Read the fine print before signing up.
-

Related Searches

- Telecommuting Job
  - Free Job Listings
  - Work Home Job
  - Apply for a Job Online
  - Job Search Engines
  - More Like This
-

How to Find Work-at-Home Jobs Online

How to Find Online Jobs

Read more: How to Find a Job Online | eHow.com http://www.ehow.com/how\_2916\_find-job-online.html#ixzz2NMngdodf