

TEXT ONE

1. Read the first part of the story

Lispeth:

- Name: Elizabeth
- Nationality: Himalayas, Sulej Valley on the Kotgarh side
- Main events in her childhood: "cholera came into the Kotgarh Valley and carried off Sonoo and Jadeh, and Lispeth became half servant, half companion, to the wife of the then Chaplain of Kotgarh."
- Physical appearance: "Lispeth had a Greek face- one of those faces people paint so often, and see so seldom. She was of a pale, ivory colour, and, for her race, extremely tall. Also, she possessed eyes that were wonderful; and, had she not been dressed in the abominable print-cloths affected by Missions, you would, meeting her on the hillside unexpectedly, have thought her the original Diana of the Romans going out to slay ."

1. In the text are portrayed the social classes of the rich bourgeoisie and of the settlers who work for the first ones;
2. Her own people hated her because she had, they said, become a white woman and washed herself daily; and the Chaplain's wife did not know what to do with her.
3. They accepted her indeed the children played with her and took classes in the Sunday School, and read all the books in the house.
4. Lisbeth know the Christian readily
5. She goes to school, she was christened, she urn to read, but she "did not walk in the manner of English ladies- a mile and a half out, with a carriage-ride back again."

3.

- a. In this case there is an omniscient narrator, that knows everything about Lisbeth and his story.
- b. In my opinion he is an objective narrator he didn't take sides with any of the characters. In my opinion, if she were on the side of Lispeth, for example, she would surely have reserved a better end to her, or she would have described the scene with more empathy towards the girl. The same applies if he was on the side of the settlers, he would have described it in a negative way, always giving a negative aspect, but on the contrary he repeatedly praises his character and his physical appearance. The author is limited to narrating is as if he were extraneous to the events.

- a. Himalaia "opium poppy-field just above the Sulej Valley on the Kotgarh side"
- b. The setting is just hinted

5.

1. She found a young Englishman, his head had been cut to the bone by something jagged.
2. She took him to her house
3. She presented him as her husband

Lispeth behavior: silly (because she wanted to marry a man that she didn't know), naive, innocent (she is a very young lady), savage (she didn't respect the english traditions), sincere (she immediately said what happened to the young men), protective (she helped the men), instinctive, primitive.

Chaplain behavior: responsible (he welcomed her), prudish (he is a chaplain), cold (he didn't express his emotions) .

Chaplain's wife behavior spiteful (she tricked her), conformist (she follow the traditions), protective .
