

My ideal boyfriend must be very tall, he must have blue eyes, brown hair, big hands, a nice smile and a small nose. He must be very cool.

My ideal boyfriend must have a great sense of humor, he must be very nice and sweet. He must like being around people because I love company. In addition to company I ^{also} love cuddles, I consider them an affectionate and intimate gesture.

My ideal boyfriend must love the mountains, my place of the heart. He must like walking on the snow, he must love traveling discovering new places in all parts of the world there. For example, I like to discover exotic places, those surrounded by nature and maritime ones such as Australia or the Awaï.

Last but not least my ideal boyfriend must be a point of reference for me, a rock to lean on but at the same time a person who would do anything for my happiness.
