

DAVIDE BELTRAMINO

THE MISTERY OF BRINGSTON

Fauglis, 21/12/2013

THE MISTERY OF BRINGSTON

Chapter 1

1976

In the south east of England there is a small village called Bringston, it is about one thousand peoples.

In this village there are three pubs, a restaurant, an inn, and a church.

Peoples of this village are very cold, unsocial, reserved, and everyone thinks about you.

Many people who live there are retire who want enjoy their free time with their partners, there also some families with some children.

People who work every day, they get up very late, because the nearest city is Canterbury about one hour from here also because every morning they catch the bus that bring they from Bringston to Canterbury.

But people are worry for the murder of Mr. Greek, Mark Greek, found dead in his swimming pool. The body was found by his domestic, Dick.

Mr. Greek was tall and sturdy, he had short brown hears and blue eyes. He was millionaire because he was entrepreneur; he worked with cars and house's area.

He was married with Felicia Burn, he had a son Carl that is mark's son in law, son of Carl' previous marriage.

Mark and is son lived in a bog villa in the middle of Bringston, They were very happy.

The arrival of Mr. Blake

Chapter 2

Police investigations have not given a good result, so the local police decided to call a detective.

After a couple of weeks , finally comes from London's the famous detective, he is tall and thin, very strong, he's got short blond hair and brown eyes, and he wears some black glasses.

His name is John, John Blake, he is thirty-five years he worked at Scotland Yard in London.

He was born and grown in Oxford, with his family, a city on the north-east of London, and there he studied and graduated.

John arrived in a cold night of December, on the 4th of December 1976, he arrive there by bus, then he went from the inn where it will stand up to that will not solve the case.

The next day Mr. Blake, goes to talk with the inhabitants about Mr. Greek, about his job, about his family, his friends, about the dead of his wife, and why she is dead about problems with somebody that hate Mr. Greek, but despite the search in length and breadth he doesn't find anything decisive

Mr. Greek

Chapter 3

The next day, on the 5th December 1976, Mr. Blake immediately began to do research about Mr. Greek. At first he questioned his business partner, David Mirror, which said:

“Greek was a sunny person, always smiling, and a great partner, from what he told me was very happy with his wife, and he had a happy marriage.

I can define him loyal, always ready to help others, selfless, and modest.

About the work, in recent months the business was booming. As second person he questioned her maid, Mariana she said:

Mr. Greek was a very private person, he did not like that other people know about his personal matters.

But I can say it was a very kind, of good word, loyal.

He has never been grumpy with anyone in the villa.

As I had he did not had any enemy.

Finally Blake asked at his secretary, Cristal Campel , but he said the same words recorded by his partner, David Mirror.

In conclusion, Mr. Blake spoke with some of the inhabitants of the village but do not discover anything new.

Mr. Blake was confused, did not know where to start. The motive was not clear because he had no enemies.

Murder weapon

Chapter 2

Blake decided the next day to inspect the site of murder: the Greek's villa.

She woke up early in the morning, he had breakfast, took the car and immediately he goes to the villa, which is about 5 km from the hostel.

The villa was known size, you entered towards a long street lined with trees and vineyards, and then he arrived in front of a large white fountain. On the right stood the garage, where they were guarded machines of immense economic value. In front of the fountain there was a large door made of wood, it's the entry.

Greek sound the bell for two times, then suddenly housemaids opened the door, Mr. Greek showed him the search warrant, and she made him pass without any problems.

Greek took a short ride of the big house, looked at the rooms, rummaged in the drawers, he hoped to found some weapons, but he did not find nothing of incriminating.

He searched also in the room of Mr. Greek's soon but them.

He went to the kitchen, here he met the responsible of the villa, Mr. Hide, and he told to Mr. Blake that Mr. Greek hided weaponry into the byre. Mr. Hide conducted Greek in the place, and he showed all the arms, except one box.

Finally he went into the garden, and during his inspection he saw in the distance an object reflecting light from the sun.

He towards the intense glow, came in the midst of green bushes, searched and found a gun covered in blood.

The gun seemed very expensive, the handle was in ivory, gold trimmings and some in silver, under the handle there were written the initials, which at the time were indecipherable.

The arrival of Victoria

Chapter 5

Greek needed help for the case, so the next day arrived the new investigator; her name is Victoria, Mss. Jones.

She is thirty-five years old, she is a pretty woman, she is tall and slim, and she has long black hair, light blue eyes.

She is from London, she studied at the university, and she worked in Scotland Yard in London.

Mr. Blake met her when she was just arrived.

Mr. Blake felt in love when she saw her, Blake invite her out for dinner, to update her about the case.

After that they took an aero to London, to see the exam of the arm.

When they arrived in London, Mr. Blake invite Victoria out for dinner, the place was the romantic Hilton hotel.

At seven o'clock Mr. Blake was waiting to Victoria, suddenly she entered from the stairs, she had long red dress, hairs are collected in a chignon, with her she brought a small bag.

Mr. Blake was in "ecstasy", he offered an aperitif.

Suddenly they had dinner, in the Hilton restaurant.

When they finished, Mr. Blake paid. Then they did a walk in the nearest park, at night they went to hotel, Mr. Blake Accompanied Victoria into her room, she thanked, and while Mr. Blake was speaking, she kissed him, then she said goodbye, and she closed the door.

Blake was very happy.

The two letters

Chapter 6

To tell the true, Mr. Blake and Victoria, went to London to take the lab analysis.

While they were doing breakfast together, arrived a new message to Mr. Blake's Phone:

"We have the analysis, went there to see it, London Royal Academy, 5th avenue, number 68, thanks"

When they saw this message, they had a fast breakfast.

Then they took a taxi, and about half past nine they were from London Academy, they searched the room, when they had found it, they took the document, and they opened it .

In the document, there are written the two letters, C.C.

Victoria had an idea: search the two letters on the net, and found the shop.

Mr. Blake took the computer immediately, and he searches the letters, they found a small shop in Canterbury, where they sell hunting weapon.

They had found the shop, now they had to found who bought the weapon.

At thirteen o'clock they picked the aero to Canterbury ...

The turning point

Chapter 7

They arrive to Canterbury at 3 o'clock p.m., they went to the hostel, they unpacked their suitcases, and then they went to Canterbury.

When they arrived, but they did not know where the shop were.

They began to search the small shop, and after half past five, they found it.

When they arrived there, they rung the bell, an old man opened the door, he was tall and fat, with white hairs and white beard, he had a pair of red sunglasses.

Mr. Blake told him:

"Have you ever sold this handgun? because in this handgun there is your brand." Told Mr. Blake while he was showing to the owner of shop, the handgun's photo.

The owner of shop answered:

"Yes I sold that handgun to.... Wait a moment, I go to see the name"

Then the owner of shop returned and said that he sold the handgun to Carl Greek...

The research

Chapter 8

Mr. Blake and Victoria, had discovered the mystery, but they had to seize Carl Greek.

They immediately called Canterbury's local police, but when the police went to Carl's house he was not there, domestics did not see Carl since last week. When Mr. Blake arrived in Bringston, they were thought about what to do to seize Carl when Victoria said:

“Mr. Greek was a rich man, and he has lots of houses, I think that Carl hides away, but I don’t know in which.”

M. Blake had an idea, he phoned to Greek’s business partner, and he told him:” hi David, can you tell me about the houses of Mr. Greek?”

David told him: “Yes Mr. Greek had nineteen houses, but fifteen are in renting now, since his dead. Now the free houses, the London one, the berlin one, and the Rome one.”

Well, Mr. Blake asks him: “do you know what Carl’s favorite house is?”

David told him:” I think is the London one, because Mr. Greek sometimes told me that Carl, was there. It’s all.”

The end

Chapter 9

They called immediately London local police immediately, but now they had to discover if Carl had act by himself, or if he had any accomplice.

Well Mr. Blake came to mind when he went to the villa, and the owner, did not show the last box.

So he decided to arrest both.

Police after one hour called Mr. Blake and told him that they had stopped Carl in his apartment.

Blake and Victoria were very happy.

Suddenly also the responsible of the villa was stopped.

During the interrogatory, Carl assert that he did it, only for the Mr. Greek holdings, because he had fright that Mr. Greek did not gave him money.

The responsible of villa, said that he did for money, because Carl promised him to give some money if he helped Carl.

In finally both went in prison, and Mr. Blake and Victoria validated their love, with marriage.