

The Homicide “maybe” perfect

Luca Vianello

CHAPTER 1 “A strange copy”

About 15 years ago in a small village in the centre of England lived a strange couple. They lived together in an odd house with big windows and doors that frightened because they were very tall and dark. There were many rooms in the house but in particular, there were two bedrooms because the man and woman didn't sleep together. Man's name was Paul. He's 45 and he was a farmer so he wasn't so much rich also if he used to work a lot. He liked betting and he smoked a lot so he spent all his moneys to buy cigarettes. He was a shy and insecure man also if he helped others people. His engaged name was Kristine. She's 40 and she was very rich because she was a lawyer but also her dad had a famous clothes shop. She liked doing shopping and staying at home. She was a sociable and courageous woman. She loved Paul but her love wasn't paid also if she didn't know that. Paul stayed with her only because she was rich and she gave him moneys indeed he didn't like her and he considered Kristine an evil and dumb people. They met in an unusual situation that was a birthday party of Hannah, Paul's ex-fiancée but also Kristine's best friend. There Paul immediately saw that Kristine was a rich people because she wore elegant clothes and lots of jewel, and he began to speak with her. Kristine at the first moment didn't like him but then she was familiar with him and she proposed him to have dinner at night together. Paul thought that was a good bid so she accepted. From that time Paul and Kristine used to meet themselves about every night after work.

CHAPTER 2 “First Kristine's disappointment”

One week later Kristine gave Paul a nice but expensive gift, a new mobile phone because his old one was destroyed and it didn't function well. Paul was happy for the present but he didn't thank Kristine. She didn't interest about this fact because she loved so much Paul also if she knew him since little time, while Paul didn't like Kristine's conduct and her physical appearance but he liked so much her money and gifts. At night they had dinner at a famous restaurant. They ate fish and they drank expensive wine but at the end Paul didn't have money to pay. Kristine was angry with Paul but then she understood that he didn't use to have lots of moneys because he was a farmer. At night they slept in the car because they were abroad and they finished their moneys. It was a cold and terrible night especially because the car was very uncomfortable and there was much confusion in the city. Kristine didn't like that fact because she paid the dinner and she hoped that Paul had moneys to pay the hotel but he didn't have neither a coin. That day they returned home soon and Paul went to their house while Kristine went to her friend's house because she was still disappointed about Paul's conduct.

CHAPTER 3 "Holiday in London"

Two days later...

Paul asked her parents if they lent him some moneys because he wanted pay Kristine a two days' holiday. His parents weren't so much rich because his mother was a housewife and his dad was a peasant, so at the first they didn't want give Paul moneys but when Paul told him that Kristine was a lawyer and she was very rich, his parents lent him all moneys that they had at home in that moment. When Paul received moneys called with his new mobile phone Kristine and told him that he had a surprise for her. He went at Kristine's office, and when she saw him very happy she thought that he had a present for her and asked him what was the surprise. He told her that he was sorry for what happened the day before yesterday but he was a farmer so he didn't have lots of money. Kristine understood Paul's situation, so he forgave him. Then he began to speak about his gift, and said her that he wanted to bring her on a two days' holiday in London. Kristine was happy for that offer and she decided to accept, but since she knew that Paul didn't have much moneys, she contributed with her moneys. They returned to their home and they packed their luggage and they went to bed because the next day they left soon. In the morning of the next day at 4 o'clock they left, and they went to the underground station. They took the tube and they left for London. At 7 o'clock they arrived and they researched a hotel when thy stayed in that two days. They found an economic but comfortable hotel. During that holiday they saw the monuments, museums and sights of London. That holiday reinforced Kristine and Paul's relationship. At the end of two days they returned to their town by underground and they went to their house when they continued their daily life.

CHAPTER 4 "A perfect plan"

Five days later...

Paul and Kristine were at their friends' party and he asked her if she wanted to be engaged with him and offered her a small but significant gift, it was an old present of his mother. Kristine was insecure of the choice but then she thought and she accepted. At night, they had dinner in a famous restaurant of England to celebrate the betrothal. At the end of the dinner Paul as usual didn't have moneys so Kristine was obligated to pay because there was an high bill. She was very angry for the event and already the first day of betrothal they didn't get on well. Kristine took two days for think about what happened that night, and Paul during that days think how he was able to reconquer Kristine because he was in need of her moneys. Paul knew that Kristine loved him so much so he thought to behave well with her for some days so she forgave him and she began again to give him moneys. Paul used this plan and he reconquered Kristine and she was very happy because she was in need of her moneys. From that time they did their life normally and their rapport was better than before.

CHAPTER 5 "A curious fact"

One month later the day of Paul and Kristine's betrothal, he decided to present her engaged to his parents, Michael and Fanny. They were about 70 years old so they were retired also if Michael did some works to make moneys to survive. They had a small farm where they had about 10 cows and some chickens. They were unusual people and when he saw Kristine at the first Michael thought that was a bad and stupid wife for his son while Fanny thought the opposite. But then Paul remembered his father that Kristine was a lawyer and she was very rich and she gave him lots of money, so his father then thought that Kristine was very intelligent and nice and she thought that was the best wife for his son. Before to see Paul's parents Kristine was agitated because she didn't know what they thought about her but when she knew them she discovered that they were good people also if she noted that they were very poor because their clothes were as filthy as a rag. They had lunch where they ate beef and white meat coming from Paul's parents' farm. Kristine liked what she ate also if she used to eat fish and she didn't use to eat peasant dish. At the end of the lunch Paul showed at Kristine his parents' small farm and their field where they cultivated vegetables to survive. Kristine since she loved Paul said him that field and farm were very beautiful also if she thought that they were horrible because she didn't get used to that kind of landscape indeed she lived in town. Then Paul went with Kristine to her house. But during the way happened an unusual fact. While Paul was driving his mobile phone rang. He saw who was, then he was going to answer to his best friend Mark. But while Paul was answering Kristine stopped him and said that while you were driving you didn't answer to the mobile phone. Paul was very angry for the event and brought Kristine to their house, he didn't say hello to her and she returned at his parents' home. During the journey he called Mark and he explained what happened before. Also if Mark was mad, he forgave her best friend and he understood what happened. When Paul arrived at home he taught that Kristine was too much bulky but when he remembered about her moneys Paul thought again she was his next wife.

CHAPTER 6 "Mark and the mess"

Two days later...

Paul decided to forgive Kristine and invited her again at his home on Saturday. Kristine at the first thought that was an interesting opportunity but then she reflect about what happened two days ago and she didn't want to go to Paul's house. She refused the offering and Kristine told Paul that she had a meeting with a client that had a big question with the law. Paul didn't believe to that thing but he didn't say that her. To understand if what Kristine told him Paul asked her to describe her client. Kristine said that: "My client's name was Mark, he's 35 years old and he was a retailer and he was as rich as me. He's scared because that year he was accused to steal moneys. He lived in a small town near London with his family that was composed of four person: his father who was an engineer, his mother who was a teacher, his sister who was a lawyer as me and she was my best friend. He had short, blonde and curly hair and his eyes were very big and brown. He was tall and thin. He had lots of hobbies, for example she liked reading and playing football. He went to the football pitch 3 days a week. He had many animals, he had a dog, a cat and a parrot. In his free time he liked going out with his friends and his animals. He liked eating meat and fish also if his favourite dish was pizza. I thought that he was a beautiful boy". Paul listened carefully that description and he understood that's Kristine's client was his best friend Mark but Paul didn't know anything about Mark's problems with the law, so Paul phoned Mark and asked him if he was an appointment with Kristine on Saturday. Mark knew that Kristine used that excuse to meet him indeed to stay at Paul's home so he told Paul he had problems with the law. Paul believed at his best friend but he wanted to peek at their appointment.

CHAPTER 7 "The treason"

On Saturday...

Kristine met Mark in her home but it wasn't an appointment where they spoke about Mark's problems because he didn't have anything with the law but it was an amorous appointment. Paul went to Kristine's home and discovered what Kristine and Mark were doing. He returned at home because Mark and Kristine betrayed him. He began to plan how to kill Kristine and Mark because they were unfaithful with him. Kristine and Mark continued their appointment, at night they went out and they had dinner in an expensive restaurant where they ate fish and they drank one of the most stiff wine in the word. At the end of the day Mark paid the sum, and Kristine said him that when she went to the restaurant with Paul he didn't have moneys and she always paid. At night Kristine slept at Mark's house and they began their love story. Paul instead was at his parents' house in his old bedroom and she was programmed Kristine and Mark's murder. Paul's parents Michael and Fanny saw that their son was glum and angry and asked him what was happened. At the first Paul didn't answer to the question but then she said them that he was sad because his business didn't go well. His parents were sorry about his son situation and they searched to help him but they didn't know what was his son's true problem.

CHAPTER 8 "A perfect plan"

Paul planned Kristine and Mark's homicide. He knew that Kristine didn't cook at night so they went out and they had dinner at their favourite restaurant in the centre of Kristine's town. They went always in the same restaurant so Paul knew that. They went to the restaurant also at the same time because Kristine returned at home at 8 o'clock and they went out at her comeback. Paul knew also that they went for a walk after dinner in the park near the restaurant. He projected to wait Kristine and Mark in the park and he concealed himself behind a bush in the park. When they passed, he knifed them. He thought that Kristine knew his car because it's old and it's in a strange colour, so he planned to go to the park in the afternoon by bus. He didn't have a knife so he was obliged to buy one. He thought that if he bought a knife near his town after the homicide, police knew immediately who was the convict. He knew that was a clandestine arms shop in the north of England, so she quickly went there. There he asked a good but cheap knife, the seller sold him the best and the cheapest knife that he had in the shop. Paul was happy and he returned at home when he planned the day of the homicide. She decided to kill Kristine and Mark the day after tomorrow.

CHAPTER 9 "The homicide"

Two days later...

In the afternoon Paul went to Kristine's town by bus and he took with himself his new knife and a mask for hide himself. At night at about 8 o'clock he went to the park and he concealed behind the shrub. While Paul was in the park at 8 o'clock Kristine and Mark began to have dinner at the restaurant. At 9.30 they finished and they went for a walk in the park. Paul listened some voices at the beginning of the park, but they didn't know who were that people, but he saw that they were two people. When they went near him, Paul recognised Kristine's voice so she prepared mentally about the homicide. Kristine and Mark passed in front of Paul and when they overtook him, he ran after them and he knifed them. Mark and Kristine's body fell down bleeding, and Paul didn't know what he had the power to do. He saw a can so he thought to take the bodies there. He took the bodies there and he returned at his parents' house by bus at 10 o'clock. He forgot to clean the blood of the bodies in the park and he lost his knife near the can. When he arrived at home his father Michael asked him why she returned late that night and she told him that she had an important dinner with some business men. Paul threw is clothes in his basement and at 11 o'clock he went to bed.

CHAPTER 10 "The admission"

The day after...

Dustmen picked up the rubbish in the zone near the park in Kristine's town. Near the can in front of the park dustmen saw some bloodstains and they called immediately the police. When police arrived they controlled in the can and they found two bodies. While police was analysing the bodies, Mark and Kristine's parents went to the police station because their son and daughter didn't return at home since yesterday night. Policemen told them that they found two bodies about a man and a woman in that zone. Kristine and Mark's parents wanted to see that bodies and they recognised their son and their daughter. Policemen recovered also a knife with many bloodstains. Policemen asked Kristine and Mark's parents some questions and Kristine's mum told them that Mark wasn't her daughter's husband but his new engaged. She told them also Paul's story, Kristine loved him but Paul didn't like so much Kristine but he loved her moneys. Paul and Kristine argued lots of time and they separated about one week ago but Paul didn't like that fact because he was in need of Kristine's moneys. Policemen wanted to know Kristine's ex-engaged Paul, and they went to his parents house. When they arrived there Paul's father asked policemen what they wanted and they responded that they wanted to speak with his son. Paul was sleeping but that fact was very important and policemen obligated his parents to wake up him. When Paul woke up, he saw policemen's car and he was nervous. Policemen began to ask him some questions but he didn't want to respond and they searched in the house and they found Paul's clothes with some bloodstains. Policemen asked Paul why that clothes were in that situation, he began to cry and he told that he killed Mark and Kristine last night because he was envious of Mark and because he was need of Kristine moneys. Policemen took Paul in prison.