

Homework for 21.10.2015

Answers to the questions of page 4:

1. How did the Druids differ from the military class?

- Druids differed from the military class because they didn't go to war, didn't pay tributes and they had an exemption from military service.

2. How long did they study?

- They studied for twenty years.

3. Why did they write in Greek?

- They wrote in Greek for two reasons: the first was that they didn't want their doctrines to be divulged among the mass of the people, the second was that if they had relied on writing their tales and their stories, they would have lost the employment of their memory.

4. What was their belief about souls?

- They believe that souls don't become extinct, but pass after death from one body to another.

5. What did they teach the young?

- They taught the young people to respect the stars and their motion, the extent of the world and of our earth, the nature of things, the power and the majesty of the immortal god.
